Four-time Grammy Nominee, Beethoven's Wig, Featuring Richard Perlmutter comes to Worcester Public Library

Live stage show is a fun and exciting introduction to classical music.

Worcester, MA – The Worcester Public Library presents Beethoven's Wig, a classical show for families featuring Richard Perlmutter, on Saturday, September 16 at 2:30 p.m. The four-time Grammy Nominee's performance features witty lyrics set to the world's greatest masterpieces of classical music. The live stage show stars creator Richard Perlmutter, playing piano, guitar, and mandolin, while singing his way through the works of Beethoven, Mozart, Bach, Brahms, and more.

During the show, Perlmutter shares anecdotes and stories about the composers and their works. The audience is invited to join in the fun, and sing and dance to some of the greatest music ever composed. It's a perfect mix of education and entertainment, and a fabulous introduction to classical music for kids of all ages.

"Richard (Perlmutter) has a great sense of humor," said Iris Delgado, Youth Services Manager. "It's very clever how he's been able to combine fun with classical music to conduct a timeless and exciting show for children and families. September is National Classical Music Month, which makes this program even more exciting!"
