Worcester Public Library Presents Flamenco for Kids

In Celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month.

Worcester, MA – The Worcester Public Library will offer a free program for kids to learn Flamenco dancing from Edmy Ortiz, a fine artist, architectural designer, and Flamenco dancer. The program will take place over two sessions, and is recommended for kids ages 4 and up. The program is in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month.

The first session of Flamenco for Kids: Part I will be held on Friday, September 30 at 4 p.m. in the Banx Room of the Worcester Public Library. This session will introduce kids to the basics of the dance, castanets and different music styles, and will be followed by a demonstration.

The second session, Flamenco for Kids: Part II will be on Friday, October 14 at 4 p.m. This session will also be held in the Banx Room. This will be your chance to practice and show off your new Flamenco dancing skills.

Flamenco offers many benefits to kids while they enjoy making noise with their feet! You may dress-up for these events if you wish, parents don't forget to bring your cameras.

Sign-up is requested for both sessions, and you may register at the Children's Room desk or by calling 508-799-1671. This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Worcester Public Library.
