Maker Mondays with the Learning Hub
Continues at the Worcester Public Library

Worcester, MA – Maker Mondays with the Learning Hub will continue during the month of September at the Worcester Public Library. Put on a lab coat and enter the Maker Lab! Join Giselle from The Learning Hub for this 3-week series of STEM Maker Classes. These classes will have you creating new things and discovering the world around you.

On Monday, September 12 from 4 to 5 p.m. stop by and learn about Environmental Literacy. Why are National Parks important? What do they do for us? What kind of wildlife are found in our National Parks? Children in the fourth grade will be signed up for a free year pass to all of the Nation's National Parks locations.

On Monday, September 19 from 4 to 5 p.m. it is Pirate Day Science Lab. Come and Join us for a Pirate Day experiment! Build your own Lego pirates and pirate ships to test the waters. How many pennies can your pirate ship hold?

Finally, on Monday, September 26 from 4 to 5 p.m. learn about Food Sustainability. Mama Mia! Join us in a discussion about organic foods while making your own ravioli! YUM!

These events take place in the new Tween Space in the Main Library's Children's Room. This program for children ages 9-12.
